GREAT DIVA HERE

SCHUMANN-HEINK ENTERTAINED
BY MRS. SOWL AT CASA
VERDUGO

Madame Schumann-Heink, the world famous contralto was a guest of Mrs. Charles Sowl at the Casa Verdugo Spanish Restaurant on Saturday evening. She is particularly fond of this quaint place and surroundings, so whenever her engagements bring her to Los Angeles, she never fails to visit Casa Verdugo.

In Madame Schumann-Heink's party from Los Angeles were her manager and Miss Edith Evans her accompanist. The great diva was as gracious and genial as ever, and in the course of the evening she sang several songs in her wonderful voice.

Mr. Julius Kranz, the violinist and composer was present, and the madame became deeply impressed with his composition. She sang some of Mr. Kranz's songs and declared they possessed rare beauty. Madame Schumann-Heink intends singing one or two of them on her programs in the east, and she will bring them to New York for publication in the near future.

Miss Viola Yorba, daughter of Mrs. Sowl, sang several Spanish songs. Madame Schumann-Heink has always taken a great interest in Miss Yorba's vocal studies, and the famous singer was delighted with the richness and beauty of her voice.

The madame will sing in Los Angeles at the Shrine auditorium on Thursday afternoon for the Teachers' Institute.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston of 335 Everett street entertained friends Saturday evening at a delightful dinner party at Easton's Hotel on Brand Boulevard. The table was beautifully decorated with a handsome bouquet of flowers as a centerpiece and a basket of fruit at each end of the table while a spray of orange blossoms lay at each corner. A bountiful four-course turkey dinner was served, covers being laid for twelve. Besides the host and hostess there were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Perry, Miss Anna Austin, and Mrs. W. C. Reynolds of Los Angeles; Mrs. Edward Rutledge and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rutledge and daughter of Huntington Park and Mrs. H. M. Johnston of Glendale.

BROADWAY P. T. A.

The Christmas program given by the pupils of the Broadway school was enjoyed by more than a hundred mothers and friends. The program was divided into two parts. Part one consisted of a cycle of Christmas songs given by the grades from the kindergarten through the fourth grade. Part two was given partly in costume, representing the twelve months of the year. There were the snow-man, the valentine, the kite, the April shower, May flowers, June bride, July firecracker, the sea shell, the autumn leaves, the goblin, the spirit of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The kindergarten entertained their friends Friday morning with a pleasing program and enjoyed a beautiful Christmas which had been prepared by Miss Helen Wright, their teacher.

A large box of groceries, canned fruit, clothing, books and toys was contributed by the children for the use of the philanthropic chairman at Christmas time.

ATTENDING TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The teachers of the Glendale schools are making daily pilgrimages to Los Angeles County Teachers' Institute this week. A joint session of all the Southern California county school districts will be held the last part of the week.

The principal address at this morning's general session, which is being held at the Los Angeles high school assembly hall, will be by Dr. E. B. Byran, president of Colgate University, who will talk on "The Meaning of Education." In the afternoon the teachers will go to the various section meetings which are to be held in the different departments of the school.

Throughout the week the teachers will enjoy alternately study and entertainment. Among the speakers who have been engaged are some of the most prominent educators in America. The musical programs arranged are of a very high standard including Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink and Mme. Esther Paliser. The high schools and auditoriums in and around Los Angeles will be headquarters for a wide variety of meetings throughout the week.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

CHILDREN OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CELEBRATE ANNI-VERSARY WEEK

The crowning event of Anniversary Week of the Presbyterian church was the Christmas party given for the Cradle Roll babies and their mothers, the beginners and the primary department, on Saturday afternoon. Promptly at 2 o'clock the wee folks, the little folks, the big folks and their friends, gathered in the Bungalow for games. Such a merry time as they had under the leadership of Mesdames King, Carmichael, Lemon, Preston and Richmond, Misses Campbell, Nichols, Engle, and others. Then came the grand march into the lecture room for the program and the Christmas tree with its dainty gifts and stockings of sweets for all the little people. Mrs. Carmichael gave the word of greeting and presided during the program. Mrs. Preston spoke in behalf of her Cradle Roll babies, a word of welcome to the members of the Chinese Sunday school and their teachers from Los Angeles, and read letters of thanks for gifts sent to the Indians.

Miss Campbell brought greetings from the Beginners. Mrs. Clyde Brooks invoked God's blessing upon these and all little children. Margaret Skyles from the Beginners gave the first reading. This was followed by a song from Harry Hamill, a reading by Mary Elizabeth Campbell and a song by four Chinese girls. Mr. Edmonds brought his message of love to the children, "Jesus is the Light of the World." "Ye are the light of the world" was his message. His illustration was five candles, a large white one for Jesus, a small white one for our church, a yellow one for the Chinese church, a red one for the Indians, and a brown one for the East Indians. The large candle was alight and the smaller ones in turn were lighted by the children who represented our own missionaries, Misses Helen Smith, Jennie Horsch and Pearl Adams. John Eilers then gave a reading after which he called Mr. Edmonds forward to present him with a desk pad for his new desk. Mr. Edmonds returned his grateful thanks. Walter Kinnaman gave a reading, followed by a chorus by the Primary Department. While the tableaux were arranged Miss Evangeline Quackenbush accompanied by Miss Vivian Engle delighted all with their music of violin and piano.

The tableaux were beautiful, portraying the giving rather than the receiving spirit of Christmas. Every one was asked by Mrs. King to be so quiet they could hear a pin drop as she let it fall from her hand, then came the distribution of the Christmas tree fruit. This was greatly enjoyed by the little folks. Tea and wafers were served to the grown ups, ice cream cones to the children and crackles to the babies. Everyone said it was beautiful. "So say we all."

FOOTBALL GAME

"We'll fight to the bitter end," quoth "Dutch" Eckles today when interviewed about the big football game to be played on the Intermediate school grounds Christmas morning. "Dutch" is captain and manager of the F. A. C. football team which is to meet the Young Men's Club. Sidney Simon is managing the Men's Club team and he predicts an excellent game. The match will start at 10 o'clock. After the game the players will satisfy their appetites at the Casa Verdugo.

American history students of Glendale high may be found in numbers at the Los Angeles library this week. When Mr. Howe assigns a history report something starts right away.

GEN. WOOD "ROASTS" MILITIA

SAYS ATTEMPT TO MOBILIZE TROOPS ON BORDER PRO-
FOUND AND COMPLETE FAILURE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—Nothing has ever been a more profound and complete failure than the effort to mobilize the militia on the Mexican border, General Wood told the Chamberlain committee to-day. He said: "Not half the regular militia units on the border to-day are on half strength. We have no army. We are unprepared. The only way to get it is by the universal military training system. We must get it now. We must get it quick. Universal military training would make real Americans out of us. It would divide by ten the number of murders in the United States."

MUNSON STORE SOLD

A. G. SPOHR OF PASADENA NOW
OWNER OF OLD ESTABLISH-ED PHARMACY

On Saturday morning a deal was consummated whereby R. H. and C. H. Munson sold their drug store to A. G. Spohr of Pasadena. Mr. Spohr, the new proprietor, has been engaged in the drug business for over twenty-five years, having operated drug stores in Des Moines and Mason City, Iowa, and for the past six years one of the leading pharmacies in Pasadena, located at Colorado and Fair Oaks, which he recently sold to the Owl Drug Co.

In securing the Munson Drug Co., which will in the future be known as Spohr's Rexall Store, Mr. Spohr becomes proprietor of one of the oldest established and leading business houses of the San Fernando Valley.

Mr. Spohr will strive to please all the old patrons of the store and by the best possible service and cut-rate drug prices, will endeavor to continue to build to the already large patronage which the store enjoys.

For the present the personnel of the pharmacy will remain the same, all the old employees continuing with the new management.

CHRIST OR SANTA CLAUS—WHICH?

(By Samuel Parker)

Twenty-five years ago it was almost universally common in all churches to side-track Christ as a factor in Christmas programs and enthroned Santa Claus, to receive the homage due as the great gift giver and distributor, and Sunday school teachers, after laboring for 50 Sunday days telling little children about the love, mercy and kindness of the Savior, threw it all away on the heathen myth, and to that extent denied the Christ they professed to love and serve.

The character of some of these Santa performances were extravagant in the extreme. A two hours' program, with not a prayer or song or insertion of the name of God or Christ was given to the heathen, while the false dispatches brought by post boys, were read by the superintendent about every fifteen minutes to a crowd of children nearly wild, how in his reindeer sled he was coming heavy-laden, broke down, but would surely get there. And how, at last he did come. And charging down the aisle, jingling bells, all bewhiskered, drum major hat and buffalo robe, after further false statement in regard to the breakdown, proceeded to give as from him—the gifts from his pack, previously given to him by parents and friends. An instance is recorded, where at a leading Methodist church in a big middle west city the gifts were distributed by two bright boys dressed up as monkeys while the superintendent and pastor looked on with delight and approbation.

Amid these very common conditions, the following resolutions were introduced and passed at a monthly meeting of the Cook County Sunday School Union: Resolved, 1st, That as humble followers of the Master whom we desire to love and faithfully serve, we protest against the perpetuation of a heathen idea in parading "Santa Claus" at our Christmas festivals. Resolved, 2nd, That we demand the withdrawal of the heathen myth from our Christmas programs to the end that the world's Redeemer have right of way in the celebration of his own birthday, and among his own people.

The discussion resulting, was wide spread, involving Dr. Torrey of the Moody institute there, of the Bible institute here now, who gave a strong discourse against the usurper, Santa Claus, for which he was ferociously assailed by a Detroit lawyer Sunday school teacher who stood for the heathen myth. Dr. Torrey survived the attack, even from a lawyer.

No distinct war need be made on Santa Claus as such, and his mission, if he has one, may be for them that desire it. For worldly purposes in origin and perpetuation, he serves his followers well. His legendary life is linked with the frivolous and false and smacks largely of fun and wassail, in close association with Bacchus, a noted legendary character, popular with his votaries and coming from the same source. In worldly gatherings there may be room for the "buffalo robe" and "drum major hat," enveloping a human form who acts smart or clownish for fun; but when such performances crowd into the church of God and sidetrack Christianity, while it holds the boards for Christmas, it is high time to throw the switch the other way and give Christ a chance at his own. If Santa Claus must con-

COMMUNITY SINGING

The altruistic section of the Shubert club of Los Angeles, under the direction of Mrs. H. Johnson, has issued a call for volunteers to sing at Exposition Park on the afternoon of December 25, at 2 o'clock. Any one knowing a part or any chorus of "The Messiah" is invited to communicate with her (Home phone 60315) or to come to the Park on that day. There is a movement among musical people to foster community singing all over the country and to encourage in different communities the singing of patriotic and other songs conducive to patriotism and the peace sentiment. Community singing is being held every Sunday at Eastlake Park in Los Angeles. A lecture on community singing is to be given on Wednesday evening at the Bible Institute building in Los Angeles by an authority on that subject.

NO EXPERIMENT

The existence of the Evening News as a local daily paper is no experiment. It is a well established paper with a large circulation, and the printing plant from which it is published gives steady employment to eleven people besides nine carrier boys. If you are not a subscriber become one at once.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Heavy killing frosts Tuesday morning. Northerly winds.

to exist, let it be in worldly celebration, but in the name of the Master, keep him out of the church.

It is noticeable that church papers give little publicity to Santa Claus programs and songs today, compared to even a few years ago and it will not be long until superintendents and teachers will create a healthy market for truly Christian programs for Christmas, and wonder if they ever used the others.

The Methodist Episcopal church, through some of its bishops, its denominational organs, conferences and a large majority of its ministers, will no longer tolerate "Santa Claus" folly in any way, at any gatherings in the church. The "Christian" church, such a powerful factor in the Christian Endeavor organization, is fast wheeling into line also. The great Lutheran church will not tolerate any "Santa Claus" foolishness, and all other denominations are consenting to give Christ the right of way at the blessed Christmas time.

SAFETY OF PACIFIC ELECTRIC BRIDGES

Are the bridges on the Pacific Electric railroad between Glendale and Los Angeles in safe condition? Who is to answer this question? Recently the Pacific Electric bridge that spans the Arroyo Seco near South Pasadena was declared unsafe by the State railroad commission, and the company was ordered to discontinue the use of the bridge. The orders of the Commission have been obeyed and the cars are not allowed to make through runs.

Almost three years ago a citizen of Glendale appeared before the board of city trustees, asking that body to take steps to have the Pacific Electric bridge between Ivanhoe and Edendale inspected. The question of having the bridge referred to inspected was brought before the Chamber of Commerce, about two years ago, and it was brought before the board of city trustees a second time about a year ago.

The Pacific Electric Company has in its employ men who are amply able to make an intelligent inspection of these bridges, but who is to order these men to make the inspection? Who ordered the Arroyo Seco bridge to be inspected? People of the Glendale community are vitally interested in the safety of the Pacific Electric bridges between Glendale and Los Angeles, and it would be at least good business for the city trustees or the Chamber of Commerce to call the attention of the State railroad commission to the reports that have been made concerning the condition of the bridges. If the high bridge this side of Edendale should go down under the weight of three loaded passenger cars, a hundred or more people would likely be killed or badly injured.

The Evening News takes this opportunity to ask the Railroad Commission if they are familiar with the condition of the Pacific Electric bridges between Glendale and Los Angeles. If the bridges are in substantial condition, all good and well, we have done no harm in asking the question. If the bridges are not in good condition, it is the duty of some one to take the initiative to see that the bridges are repaired or rebuilt.

DESTROY NON-BEARING FRUIT TREES

J. B. Shinn, who is spending the winter at Hotel Gray in Glendale, has spent considerable time walking over different sections of Glendale and, having been a horticulturist, he is very much interested in trees. Mr. Shinn is a lover of ornamental trees and also fruit trees, providing the fruit trees are in a healthy growing condition.

This very observing gentleman severely criticises property owners for allowing scrub fruit trees, apricot, lemon, orange and peach, to occupy valuable space that might be planted to something that would be a revenue or a source of satisfaction to the owner of the property.

Mr. Shinn says the presence of these half-dead fruit trees conveys to a stranger that the Glendale section of California is not adapted to the growing of fruit trees, or that the owners of the trees have not sufficient thrift to care for the trees. He says apricot trees seem to predominate in the list of useless trees.

THE AUTO FIRE TRUCK AGENTS

Since it has been announced that Glendale will hold a bond election to vote on issuing bonds for the purpose of purchasing a new auto fire truck and other fire fighting apparatus, agents for auto fire truck factories have been visiting our city quite frequently, and on Saturday one agent was exhibiting a truck on our streets.

The board of trustees' experience in dealing with agents was not very satisfactory when truck number one was purchased three years ago, so it will likely be the sense of the present board to act slowly in closing a deal with agents should the bond proposition carry at to-morrow's election.

Agents are too often ready to promise everything and make good nothing. They are anxious to close a sale, get the money and care not what trouble may follow.

SPEAKS WELL FOR CALIFORNIA CLIMATE

Upon passing one of the Glendale churches Sunday, the writer observed Sunday School teachers and their pupils seated out in the open air at the side of the church building, studying the Sunday School lesson. This speaks well for California climate. Think of it, December 17, and it possible to conduct classes out in the open air. Upon inquiry the writer has learned that this instance is not an exception, it being quite customary for other Sunday Schools of the city to allow classes to assemble in the open air for class work.

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT

Lots of people just love to worry, but often find themselves at a loss for anything to worry about. For the benefit of all such, we offer on this beautiful Monday Evening the following aids to wrinkles and gray hairs:

Your enemy's boils.
Other people's money.
The depth of the sea.
Next year's vacation.
The flies yet unswatted.
The wheat crop in Iceland.
The dollar bill you lost ten years ago.

The location of next world's fair.
The scarcity of coal along the equator.
The exact speed of your neighbor's car.

The welfare of the inhabitants of Mars.

The number of sparrows in the United States.

The crop yields of the United States in 1914.

The whereabouts of the warts you once had.

The Kaiser's toothache, or King Edward's gout.

The whereabouts and welfare of your first sweetheart.

The health of a fourth cousin whom you have never seen.

Indications this year are that 1914 will be the hottest year in history.

The Eagle Rock lodge, O. E. S., installed the following officers for the new year at its last meeting:

Worthy matron, Rachel Parkhurst; worthy patron, Arthur Hess; associate matron, Blanche Gardiner; secretary, Ada Carr; treasurer, Ellen Wilde; marshal, Mae McIvor; organist, Mary McIvor; chaplain, Laura Dickinson; warder, Mattie Butler; sentinel, John McIvor; Adah, Dorothy Wilde; Ruth, Pearl Richards; Esther, Rose Fellows; Martha, Birdie Stanton; Electa, Alice Dirks.

ASPIRATION

To live for common ends is to be common.
The highest faith makes still the highest man;
For we grow like the things that we believe.
And rise, or sink, as we aim high or low.
No mirror shows such likeness of the face,
As the faith we live by of the heart and mind;
We are in very truth that which we love;
And love like noblest deeds, is born of faith.

—Browning.

KEEP MOVING

"Refuse the dead stare of standstill—of accepting as final anything whatsoever. Man has erred for ages—we have found supposed truths to be errors. One device is succeeded by a better. Creeds and religions arise—and then better ones are born. Things of today will change—so will those of tomorrow.
"The whole progress of man attests to the glory and grandeur of agitation—the desire for conquest and change—for success rising to higher levels. To augment, to increase, to win strength, to march forward, to be worth more today than yesterday—that is at once the glory and life, says the philosopher."
—Pelton.

FROM "THE SEEKING OF THE WATERFALL"

They left their home of summer ease
Beneath the lowland's sheltering trees.
To seek, by ways unknown to all,
The promise of the waterfall.

They sought it where the mountain brook
Its swift way to the valley took;
Along the rugged slope they clomb
Their guide a thread of foam and song.

Height after height they slowly won.
The fiery javelins of the sun
Since the bare ledge, the tangled shade
With rock and vine their steps delayed.

But through leaf-openings, now and then
They saw the cheerful homes of men,
And the great mountains with their wall
Of misty purple girdling all.

FORGET

Forget the slander you have heard,
Forget the hasty, unkind word,
Forget the quarrel and the cause,
Forget the whole affair because
Forgetting is the only way,
Forget the chap whose sour face
Forgets to smile in any place,
Forget the trials you have had,
Forget the weather if it's bad,
Forget the knocker, he's a freak,
Forget him seven days a week,
Forget you're not a millionaire,
Forget the gray streaks in your hair,
Forget the home team lost the game,
Forget the pitcher was to blame,
Forget the coffee when it's cold,
Forget to kick, forget to scold,
Forget wherever you may roam,
Forget the duck who wrote this poem,
Forget that he in social bliss,
Forget himself when he wrote this,
Forget to even get the blues,
But don't forget to pay your dues,
And don't forget to pay them now.

DANCING PARTY

A plant raised in a hothouse may grow luxuriantly, and yet be quite unfit to cope with the rough winds, and even with the sunshine of the outdoor world. It is a fragile thing. In the environment to which it is accustomed it flourishes, but it has no resistance. If it were put into the ground at the time of the year a million little plants are starting all about it, for all its look of vigor and luxuriance, it would be very likely to die. The breeze would be too much for it. The chill of the night would be too great a contrast to the even temperature of the hothouse. The hot sun at noonday would cause it to wilt dejectedly. The life of the hothouse is a poor training for the life of the outdoor world.

BEING FITTED FOR SERVICE

Now this illustrates what a great many homes do for the young people in them. In a sense they are good homes, with loving fathers and mothers at the head. But the love is mistaken. It shields the young people from what is hard. It supplies whatever they need, without any exertion on their part. It gives them happiness without responsibility. It guards them, but fails to develop in them the capacity for self-protection.—Young People's Weekly.

Canned fruit brokers have been quite numerous on the coast this fall, looking over prospects as to the coming fruit season. Two carloads of oranges shipped from Lindsay, have been returned to the owner, a cash broker at Lindsay, as they failed to meet the 8 to 1 test. The chief inspector at Lindsay refused to issue a maturity certificate but the fruit was consigned to the Santa Fe and went as far as Barstow. The county authorities notified the railroad officials, calling their attention to the terms of the ordinance making it a misdemeanor to move fruit unless accompanied by a maturity certificate, with the result that the train crew was instructed to return the cars to Lindsay.

THE SETTING SUN

The beautiful sun Has calmly descended into the ocean; The restless waters already are dimmed

With gloomy night. Save where the evening's red Flushes them golden with flecks of light; And the swelling, murmuring tide Drives to the shore the white-crested breakers. That bound and leap. Like fleecy white flocks, Which at nightfall the shepherd-boy Drives home singing. —Heine (Tr. by Kate Freiligrath Kroeker).

NOT WORTH MUCH IN A PANIC

"Oh, he is a good enough business man for times like these," said a shrewd judge of men, referring to one who had recently made a start in business life, and seemed to be succeeding excellently. "Times are good and it is all plain sailing. But he will not be worth much in a panic."

Two years later, a time of financial depression occurred. Banks failed. Business men went to the wall. And among the first was the young man who had made so promising a start. Not only did he fail in business with a total loss of the capital invested, but he broke down nervously and spent the next five years in a sanitarium. He was a good enough business man for prosperous times, but he was worth nothing in an emergency.

Almost any officer is good enough for a dress parade. But it takes a man to win a battle. Almost any navigator can handle a ship on a calm sea, but to bring a vessel safely through the storm requires skill. Almost any one is equal to the unexpecting demands of the average day, but it is not enough unless they are equal to the emergency.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the Presbyterian church yesterday forenoon, Rev. W. E. Edmonds preached the second sermon of his series taken from the life of Elijah, his text being I Kings, 17:3: "Get thee hence and hide thyself by the brook Cherith." The incident related here occurred after the visit of the prophet to King Ahab, when the terrible threat of the Lord had been uttered and the promise made that for the space of three years and six months no rain nor dew should fall, except on appeal of the prophet. It is very likely that the King had not taken Elijah seriously nor believed the work of the Lord which he delivered. In their time neither Moses or Noah had been taken seriously. It is very seldom that man is willing to recognize God in his personal affairs and yet God is speaking to us daily in our personal experience. Elijah was a man of the common sort, he had no unusual gifts that would distinguish him from his fellows, he had only a belief in God and an unquestioning faith. Many men if ordered to go to the brook Cherith would have questioned the Lord as to the future after that, as to what they should do next, but Elijah was willing to trust God and to do just the thing that he was commanded to do at the time, not questioning future results. We make our program and God steps in and completely changes it, yet in all these changes we should see and acknowledge God. It was contrary to nature that the ravens should feed Elijah, it was not natural that they should do it, but when God promised, Elijah did not question but went down to the brook and dwelt there. It should be noticed that the Lord promised to feed the prophet in that particular place, not elsewhere, just there was his special work and just there the Lord would provide for his needs. The question for us to ask is, are we in the place that God wants us? If not, there is no promise that we shall be fed; we must yield implicit obedience. The Lord never deserts those who trust in and obey Him. If he commands that we go down to the brook Cherith, it is for us to obey although it may not be the plan we have made for our lives. Jesus went down to the brook and he offers as the waters of life inviting all to "Come and drink of the waters of Life, freely."

YOURS FOR THE TAKING

It is so easy for us to imitate what we see continually that this emphasizes the importance of choosing the right kind of associates. If your bosom friend does his work well enough to pass muster and no better, if he is by preference a shirk, then you will need to be very much on your guard to become anything better. If you associate with failures, the probability of your becoming a failure is materially increased. Find associates of the sort that will inspire you. If you cannot discover them in the flesh right away, seek them in books. Study with Lincoln, by the light of the pine knots on the hearth. Walk with Garfield along the towpath, and share the ambitions that stirred the heart under that ragged coat. There is inspiring comradeship for you, if you will take it. Refuse to satisfy yourself with companions who are unprincipled, unambitious, indifferent to all that is finest and highest. Desire the best and the best is yours for the taking.

According to the annual report of the Van Nuys Poultry Association, Van Nuys furnished Los Angeles 8,400 fresh eggs as an average daily contribution to that market during the year 1916. There were 7740 cases of eggs marketed through the association for the eleven months up to December 1. At the annual meeting a resolution was adopted presenting a comparison of the increase in the price of eggs with the increase in the price of chicken feed and urging fair treatment to the producers.

ORDINANCE NO. 301

AN ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE, REGULATING THE ESTABLISHMENT AND OPERATION OF HOSPITALS, SANATORIA OR SANATORIA IN SAID CITY, AND FIXING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do ordain as follows:

Section 1. For the purpose of this ordinance, a hospital, sanatorium or sanatorium is hereby defined to be any institution or place used for the reception or care, temporary or continuous, of one or more sick, injured or dependent persons, or used for the treatment and care of one or more persons suffering or afflicted with any mental or physical disease or bodily injury, not including any private home or residence used for the care of any member of the family occupying such private home or residence.

Section 2. For the purpose of this ordinance, the "residence portion" of the City of Glendale shall consist of all those sections or portions of said city devoted to and being used for residential purposes, and not including those outlying or unoccupied portions of said city not being so used.

Section 3. For the purpose of this ordinance, the "business portion" of the City of Glendale shall consist of those sections or portions of said city devoted to and being used for business, semi-business, or industrial purposes.

Section 4. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish, maintain or conduct, keep open or manage, any hospital as defined in this ordinance within the corporate limits of the City of Glendale without first having obtained a permit in writing from the Board of Trustees of said city so to do, as hereinafter provided.

Section 5. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such permit shall apply in writing to the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale and shall truly state in said application the location or proposed location of the hospital, the purpose for which it is to be conducted or maintained, the accommodations for the inmates thereof, the nature and kind of treatments to be given or proposed to be given therein, and the name and address of the person, firm or corporation that shall own such hospital, and also the name and address of the person who shall actually conduct and manage such hospital.

It shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees, upon the receipt of such application, to make or cause to be made strict inquiry into the facts set out in such application, and if upon such inquiry said Board shall find such hospital is, or is intended to be, conducted so as to comply with all the laws, ordinances, rules and regulations which shall then be in force in said city concerning the location, management and control of such hospitals, and that the same shall not be a menace or probable menace to the public peace, health, comfort and welfare, then said Board of Trustees shall grant a permit to conduct such hospital and shall issue or cause to be issued a permit authorizing such applicant to open, conduct, manage or maintain such hospital at such place in the manner and for the purpose in such application set forth.

Section 6. That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, maintain, construct or manage any hospital within the City of Glendale within 200 feet of any property used for public school purposes.

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish, operate, maintain or conduct, within the residence or business portions of the City of Glendale, as defined by this ordinance, any hospital, sanatorium, sanatorium, or other place, for the reception or care of persons affected with tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, small pox, or infantile paralysis.

Section 8. Every hospital, sanatorium, sanatorium, or other place, conducted, maintained, or managed, by any person, firm or corporation, under the provisions of this ordinance, shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of the health officer of said city, or by any person duly appointed by said Board of Trustees to make such inspection, and said Board of Trustees is empowered hereby to inspect the same, or cause inspection to be made, whenever and as often as they may deem proper. If upon such inspection said Board of Trustees shall find any such hospital to be conducted or maintained in violation of the terms of the application hereinbefore referred to, or in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance or any of the laws of the State of California or of the City of Glendale, then such Board of Trustees shall revoke such permit issued to such person for the conducting, managing and maintaining of such hospital, or said Board may revoke said permit for any other good and sufficient cause which in their discretion may seem necessary for the protection of the public peace, health and comfort.

Section 9. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $300.00, or by imprisonment in the City Jail for not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Tri-City Progress, a weekly newspaper published and circulated in the City of Glendale, and 60 days

OLDEST CHRISTIAN BELL WILL RING OUT YEAR

The oldest dated Christian bell in existence will ring out the old and ring in the new at Oakland's New Year's eve celebration this year. This ceremony will be the finale of the production of "The Messiah" by the Alameda County Chorus in the $1-000,000 municipal auditorium.

Preceding the oratorio a pilgrimage will be made to the top of Mount Diablo, where farewell will be sung to the last sunset of 1916 and a dance symbolic of the birth of the new year will be performed. Mount Diablo, the highest peak in Central California, gained its name from an Indian chief called "The Devil," who routed the Spanish conquistadors in the seventeenth century.

The old bell that is to ring on New Year's eve is of Spanish casting, bearing the date of 1247. In that year Spain's first Christian King, James I, was on the throne. It is the property of Frank A. Miller of Riverside, in Southern California, and will be brought to Oakland on a motor truck, guarded day and night by Boy Scouts.

Miller, a collector of old bells, discovered it in a London bell foundry several years ago. The British museum tried to prevent it from leaving England, but Miller gained possession after a long contest, in which the United States ambassador's aid was procured.

CALIFORNIA RICE INDUSTRY

The Department of Agriculture's forecast of the coming rice crop of California, is 4,275,000 bushels, as against a final estimate of 2,268,000 bushels last year. As the forecast of our wheat crop, as of the same date, was but 5,024,000 bushels, and the area devoted to rice is rapidly increasing, it is probable that for the future rice, next to barley, will be our most important cereal grain.

The other important rice growing sections of the country are in Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas, whose aggregate output for this year the department forecasts at 29,880,000 bushels. The rice industry of the country is, therefore, small, compared with our output of other cereals, and the present output of this State is small compared with that of the whole country, which may be something over 34,000,000 bushels for the present year.

Comparatively small as our output of rice is, it has for the most part to find markets outside the country in competition with the rice of the world. The trouble with the rice industry in this country is that the people of Northern European stocks are not rice eaters and that our Oriental population prefers and imports most of its rice from their home countries, even with duty of a cent a pound on cleaned rice. Our imports of rice are perhaps three times our exports, but it appears that almost every variety of rice has its particular customers and when any new district goes into the rice business it must hunt for its particular market. Our best market thus far is Porto Rico, where our rice competes with that of the Gulf States, which are much nearer.

It is this peculiarity of the rice industry which has probably caused an early and effective organization of our rice growers, which, it is said, will control about three-fourths of the crop of this State.

No other grain growers feel the necessity of organizing for marketing purposes. Prices of each day in all markets are available to all interested and buyers at those prices are always at hand. While rice is the main food of the majority of mankind, we probably can never, in this country, afford to raise rice for the great rice markets of Asia.

Nevertheless, the industry is of very great value to the Pacific Coast as it makes it possible to put to profitable use large areas of land not fitted to other crops. As it requires three or four times as much water to produce a rice crop as to produce an equally good crop of other grain it is probable that on land which will produce other crops rice will be grown only in an occasional rotation, and for the purpose of clearing the land of weeds.

AT GOVERNOR'S BAY

Across the hills we went that day,
Across the hills—oh, golden time!
The sea, the sky made one sweet rhyme,
And nothing could our hearts affray.

We watched the mists that wreathed soft
The hills with mystic robes of white,
Then slowly swelled to forms of might—
The armed guards of vale and croft.

And gentle wind blew up the pass,
With scent of bracken, vetch and whin,
And lavish largesse of their kin,
From broom's gold leafage shot with grass.

The apple trees had leapt to life,
And robed in fairy sheen they stood
In many a tiny garden rood;
The whole wide world with joy was rife.

—Dolce A. Cabot.

THE COURTEOUSNESS OF THE ABYSSINIANS

"I must say a word now about the politeness of the Abyssinians," Captain C. H. Stigand says in his book, "To Abyssinia through an Unknown Land," "a fact which impressed me very much, and for which I was not prepared amongst a comparatively speaking uncivilized people. There is no nation I have ever met, not even the French, who can be compared with the Abyssinians in this respect. Many of them are exorbitant in their demands and dilatory in their methods, but they are so courteous in their exactions and procrastinations that it is difficult to take offense.

"To compare Abyssinia with another self-governing, semi-civilized race, a European in Arabia would be followed about by a crowd of small boys. Yet I was able to walk through the whole length of Abyssinia in a costume which in my own country, even, would have caused some comment, and I have never heard a single rude thing said about me by any Abyssinian small boy. On the contrary, every child greets a stranger and his own elders in a courteous and respectful manner, which might well be imitated by their white brethren.

PICTURE GALLERIES

Those who live in towns should carefully remember this, for their own sakes, their wives' sakes, for their children's sakes. Never lose an opportunity of seeing anything beautiful.

Therefore I said that picture galleries should be the townsmen's paradise of refreshment. Of course if he can get the real air, the real trees, even for an hour, let him take it. . . . but how many a man who cannot spare time for a daily country walk, may well slip into the National Gallery in Trafalgar square (or the South Kensington museum) or any other collection of pictures, for ten minutes. That garden, at least, flowers as gaily in winter as in summer. . . . There in a space of a single room, the townsman may take his country walk—a walk beneath mountain peaks, blushing sunsets, with broad woodlands spreading out below it; a walk through green meadows, under cool mellow shades and over-hanging rocks, by rushing brooks, where he watches and watches till he seems to hear the foam whisper, and to see the fishes leap; and his . . . heart wanders out free, beyond the grim city-world of stone and iron, smoky chimneys, and of roaring wheels, into the world of beautiful things. —Charles Kingsley.

THE OLD GOSPEL

If our life would mold the gospel
Of the Christ in every day,
It would give far greater values
To the things we do and say.
If before the cross each morning
We gave time to seek His grace,
Men would see in us the Master,
As we touch them place to place.

Life is fraught by so much hurry,
We neglect at op'ning day
To enter our blessed Father
For His guidance in the way.
Thus we pass with feverish impulse
To our given tasks and fail,
For the life is more than substance
As the wheat is more than flail.

Oh, to live the plain old Gospel
In a vital way each hour,
Meeting souls by God's own leading,
Being conscious of His power;
Helping, healing, blessing, filling
Other lives with wholesome good,
Just because we feel the life-flow
Of a Christian brotherhood.

SLOW AND SAFE

Slow progress is the safest. The meteors that flash across the face of the sky, disappear in darkness. The young men who make the quick success are not as a rule, the ones whose gains are lasting. The great names in art and literature, in science and invention, and in public life are almost without exception the names of men who have risen slowly, and built with painstaking care, the ladder by which they climbed to fame.

PLEASANT PEOPLE

Some men move through life as a band of music moves down the street, flinging out pleasure on every side through the air, to every one far and near who can listen. Some men fill the air with their presence and sweetness, as orchards in October days fill the air with perfume of ripe fruit. Some women cling to their own houses like the honeysuckle over the door, yet like it, sweeten all the region with the subtle fragrance of their goodness. They are trees of righteousness which are ever dropping precious fruits around them. There are lives which shine like starbeams, or charm the heart like songs sung up on a holy day.

How great a bounty and a blessing it is to hold the royal gifts of the soul so that they shall be music to some, and fragrance to others, and life to all! It would be no unworthy thing to live for—to make the power which we have within us the breath of other men's joy; to scatter sunshine where only clouds and shadows reign; to fill the atmosphere where earth's weary toilers must stand with a brightness which they cannot create for themselves, and which they long to enjoy and appreciate.—Selected.

THE CHINESE CASH

In the remote parts of China the silver "shoes" are still used, and buyer and seller each carry a pair of scales, while the purchaser chips off with a chisel enough silver from his "shoe" to pay his bill, which the merchant again carefully weighs to the fraction of a grain, to see that he has enough.

The "cash," worth now a tenth of a Chinese cent, or a twentieth of an American cent, has disappeared from the coast cities, where big copper cents have taken their place, but they are still used in the far interior, though even ten years ago they were of universal currency, and it was a common saying that one took a donkey to carry his cash to market and took his purchases home in his hand.

Undoubtedly this financial muddle will in time be straightened out, says the Christian Herald, and even as it is it is more a matter of inconvenience than of actual loss to those who "know the ropes."

SUCCESS

Success that is worth anything must be earned, must be waited for patiently before it is won. Our foremost men in every department of civil, of professional, of commercial, of literary life are gray-haired men. True, there are many promising men and women in every walk in life who are young; but they are not yet ripe, and cannot be till years have passed over them. Through the years they must work on steadily, persistently, constantly, under scorching suns, during long and weary days, along dusty and crowded thoroughfares, till the knowledge they have gathered and the experiences they have gone through, have time to pass into wisdom.

As there is a class of soil-tillers who realize handsomely from the sale of early vegetables and fruits, so there are those who in different ways succeed in making a "hit" and reaping quick pecuniary returns. But early flowers, early vegetables, early fruits are hothouse growths, and spring from rich and highly stimulated soils. The great crops of grain which feed the world are months in growing and maturing. The great writers and thinkers, held in honor by their contemporaries, shed their May blossoms years and years ago, lived through their Junes and Julys and Augusts, and now in the golden autumn of their lives are reaping their well-earned harvests.—Selected.

THE MARKS IN THE STONES

Some months ago, writes Rev. Ernest Bourner Allen, D. D., in Endeavor World, my work called me to South Bend, Ind., and while there I visited again the splendid equipped building of the Young Men's Christian Association. It was erected by the Studebaker Brothers Company in memory of five brothers. Their life-size portraits, a fine group, adorn the walls of the reading room, and suggest the service these Christian business men have rendered the cause of Christ and the young men of their generation. Their lives are built into these memorial walls. The marks of unselfish service are there.

When you mount the stone steps to enter, the last step will attract your attention. Just where, every man naturally stands as he opens the right-hand door, the stone is worn down to a hollow, inches deep. All who have ever entered have helped to make that depression, strange, yet comfortable to the foot. Repeated abrasion—slight, but ever in the same place—has left its mark upon the stone.

At some of the important entries of life—occupation, marriage, sorrow, temptation—we are all apt to stand in about the same place, and to leave our mark. Some entries are not sufficiently marked for men to notice. If more feet pressed the church threshold, there would be more of a mark there for the community to notice, to reflect upon.

What thresholds are you helping to mark and deepen in your community? Where do you often stand for God and for humanity?

"DID YOU NOTICE"

It is said that Hogarth, the great master of caricature, regretted that he had ever cultivated that faculty. He declared that by exercising it he had lost the power to appreciate beauty. Every face he looked at, he saw some feature exaggerated.

There are plenty of people who pay the penalty Hogarth paid without achieving his fame. They have formed the habit of criticism and it has become so fixed that they look for faults in every acquaintance. They are unable to appreciate beauty of character. Courage, kindness, generosity make no impression upon them. Their attention is fixed upon some trivial weakness, which the critical faculty exaggerates out of all proportion.

A young woman was once introduced to a man celebrated in many lands besides his own, as a thinker, and philosopher. She sat seemingly attentive to a conversation which sparkled with jewels of wit and wisdom. When the call was over, the friend who had introduced her, waited for the expression of appreciation he felt sure would be forthcoming.

The girl's first words surprised him. "Did you notice," she said, "how he runs his heels over at the side? That's something I can't endure, shoes run over at the heels. It looks so slovenly." The greatness of the man she had encountered, his wisdom, his courtesy, had made no impression. All that she noticed was that his heels were run down.

Hogarth made a fortune out of the art of caricature. If he lost the power to appreciate beauty, he at least had something to show for it. But this young girl and others like her, render themselves unable to appreciate beauty of soul and a loftiness of motive and have nothing to show for what they have surrendered. Caricature may be a profitable art, but criticism is unprofitable.—Young People's Weekly.

AND IS KIND

There are quite a number of new translations of that great chapter, the thirteenth of First Corinthians, and some of them, says The Christian Guardian, do throw new light and meaning into it, but there is one phrase in the old rendering that we do not like to miss. It reads, changing the one central word to its real meaning, "Love suffereth long, and is kind." We would like that to stay, for it does hold up before us in such beautiful, clear light the wonderful, alluring, impossible ideal of Christian living. To be tried and not get impatient; to be injured or ill-treated by a friend or by some cruel circumstance in life and not get indignant or bitter or revengeful; to suffer and suffer long and yet be kind and strong and sympathetic and thoughtful for the other fellow—how fine and Christian and splendid and hard that is. And yet the great Apostle, without any apology or modification, holds up before us that great achievement and tells us that that we ought to do and that we ought to be if the love that is born of Christ has right of way in our life.
